When Australia stood in glory

The draw for Group One of the 1974 World Cup finals — Chile, West Germany, East Germany and Australia.

West Germany went on to win the Cup, beating Australia 3-0 on the way.

Now Germany is poised to defend its title in Argentina.

"Soccer Action" has a three-page feature inside on Germany, past and present.

Milan's June tour is off

AC Milan's proposed Australian tour in June has been called off.

However, Australian Soccer Federation vice-president Michael Weinstein said this week he was confident the tour would go ahead at the end of July.

If not, Milan will be here next January, he said.

The Victorian Soccer Federation, of which Mr. Weinstein is chairman, struck various problems in trying to set up the tour for June.

South Australia agreed to pay a reduced match fee of $15,000 for a game in Adelaide on June 21, but refused to pay $3000 for three days' accommodation.

Victoria had previously undertaken to pay the lion's share of Milan's costs — $35,000 — but South Australia's haggling meant Victoria would have had to pay even more.

Another problem was that Milan also wanted a game in Bangkok, which had not been finalised.

But the biggest setback was the ASF's refusal to grant permission for the tour on the grounds that it was too close to the tour by Greece and because it would interfere with Phillips League fixtures.

Mr. Weinstein will be in Milan for the first three days of June and will meet club directors on June 1. He will try to negotiate a tour in late June or in January.

"We will definitely see Milan in Australia," he said. "We have not lost them."

Milan, the team of Gianni Rivera, finished fourth in the Italian league, behind Juventus, Vicenza and Torino.

Total cost of the tour would be about $100,000.

J.U.S.T. v. HELLAS

The Phillips Cup game between Footscray J.U.S.T. and South Melbourne Hellas will be played at Olympic Park on May 31 at 8 pm.

The game is expected to draw the biggest crowd of the first Cup round.

The winner will go on to the second round, whereas the loser drops out.

The Australia-wide cup promises to become the major soccer competition in the country — the local equivalent of the English FA Cup.

STARS GET SLAP IN THE FACE!

By LAURIE SCHWAB

The Australian squad for the full international match against Greece in Adelaide on June 14 constitutes a hefty slap in the face to the senior Socceroos who have served their country so well for so long.

Peter Wilson, Jimmy Rooney, George Harris, Col Curran, Dave Harding, Peter Ollerton and Attila Abonyi have been unceremoniously dumped.

Obviously coach Jim Shoulder set out to pick only young players.

However, it is world-wide practice that only the best, regardless of age, play in full international matches.

The Australian Soccer Federation should have instructed Shoulder to experiment only in the other two games — in Melbourne on June 11 and in Sydney on June 18 — for neither of these will be billed as full internationals. Instead, the Australian team will be an "Australian XI".

The ASF should have used the full international match as a farewell to the Wilsons, Abonyis and Rooneys.

The game could have been advertised that way and perhaps these great and loyal players could have been given a small percentage of the gate receipts in recognition of their long service.

Wilson and goalkeeper Jack Reilly have been retained for the "unofficial" games but what about Rooney, Abonyi and the others?

At least they could have been paid the courtesy of being names in the squad — even if they were asked to sit on the bench!

The inclusion of Middlesbrough player Craig Johnston, in Australia to play guest games for Newcastle, was a surprise.

Johnston was quoted in the Press as saying his aim was to play for Scotland, as his parents are Scottish. What's more Middlesbrough says it would not give Johnston permission to play for Australia.

As for the squad named to play in Melbourne, there are a number of glaring omissions.

Among the countless people who rang "Soccer Action" when the squads were announced, was Mike O'Hara, understudy to Footscray J.U.S.T.'s brilliant goalkeeper Dennis Boland.

"Dennis has to be the best goalkeeper in Australia at the moment, yet he's left out. It's unbelievable," O'Hara said.

Joe Palinkas, the J.U.S.T. right winger, is clearly the best man in that position in the whole league, yet he too has been left out, while John Nyekohus of Adelaide Juventus is in the squad to play in Melbourne.

Surely Palinkas deserved a chance in front of his home crowd.

Similarly, J.U.S.T. centre back Jim Kondarios should have been in the Melbourne squad, for he's even better than Croatia's Steve Kokoska, who did rate a mention.

It's good to see Chris Kalafatis, Joe Piccione, Mendo Ristovski and Gary Cole given a chance, but why not more Victorians for a game played in Melbourne?

John Stevenson of Hakoah is a great player, but why has he been named for the Melbourne game instead of the one in Sydney?

And why has Canberra's John Davies been selected when it is unlikely that Davies will have recovered from his injury in time?

The Prime Minister picks up a few of the finer points from Canberra coach Johnny Warren.

Prime Minister backs soccer

By JOHNNY WARREN

Irrespective of one's political leanings, Canberra City's "signing" of Australia's Prime Minister as its patron and number one ticket holder is a prestigious breakthrough for soccer.

The Prime Minister accepted his membership and patronage from the Canberra City delegation which included vice president Theo Moulis, captain Roy Stark, guest star Peter Marinello and myself at a ceremony at Parliament House last week.

The Prime Minister expressed informed interest in Canberra City and its achievements, the Socceroos and the rapid development of soccer in Australia.

One of the saddest nights I have seen recently was the once famous Apia club playing Monaro at Bruce Stadium recently.

It was a shame to see the almost tragic demise of what was once Australia's top club.

With due respect to its current players only a couple would earn a place, if that, in Apia's great teams of the past.

Marston, Iglesias, Watkins, Giacommetti, Wong, Wenzel, Ackery, Keih, Bottalico, Rooney, Rogers, Blues, Hughes, Ollerton, Rooney, Campagna, Wallace and other top players have gone and with them the great tradition that was Apia.

Canberra embarks on an intensive coaching/promotional exercise this week to promote soccer throughout schools in the ACT.

During second term, thanks to the sponsorship of Willis Sportstores, Vic Fernandez and I will visit primary and high schools giving similar demonstrations and lectures.

During the past week Peter Marinello, Johnny Davies, Ron Tilsed, Gary Parker, Terry Byrne and I have been running coaching classes from 10-4 pm daily in the Capital Permanent Coaching School.

In addition I am running three courses for teachers over the next two months to help them organise school-kids in training methods for soccer.

WE WERE WRONG

"Soccer Action" wrongly reported that Western Suburbs goalkeeper Wally Lachowicz was replaced by Greg Woodhouse at half time of the match against South Melbourne Hellas two weeks ago.
 In fact, Lachowicz played the whole game. His rating for the game is 5. The rating mistakenly given to Woodhouse is deleted.

And now: State League v. Philips League

Philips Cup action comes to Melbourne tonight (Wednesday) for the first time.

Juventus Melbourne will tangle with George Cross, and Philips Leagues Fitzroy Alexander will be challenged by Slavia at Olympic Park, the first-listed game starting at 6.45pm.

In Sydney tonight (Wednesday), Western Suburbs face Sutherland, and APIA takes on St. George. These games will be played at Garside Park.

The Alexander/Slavia game will give Melbourne fans their first chance to assess the difference between the Philips and State Leagues. Slavia, although not the strongest State League club, will test Alexander, which has been far from convincing in recent games.

However, Slavia will be hard pressed to contain the Alexander striking duo of Gary Cole and Branko Buljevic, even though sweeper John Yzendoorn is in good form, so Alexander should win.

Juventus has trouble scoring goals, a failing that has let the side down badly in recent weeks. Georgie, on the other hand, has Kenny Reed, who's due for a big haul of goals.

By KYLE PATTERSON

The Juve defence, led by the dependable Steve Walker, is Juve's strong point, so the game may be decided by a single goal. "Soccer Action" tips a Juve victory, only because the team has the big names who will lift themselves for the occasion.

Western Suburbs and St. George should go through to the second round, but Sutherland shouldn't be counted. With the experienced ex-Socceroo John Wakisa at the helm, Sutherland is capable of causing an upset.

Youngster Craig Hall is really buzzing up front for Sutherland, but Wests has the skilful, imaginative Brian O'Donnell, a midfielder who has starred in recent games.

Terry Butler and Johnny Doyle are experienced front men for APIA, but Phil O'Connor and Rudi Gnevi are firing for the Saints.

This Saturday, Newcastle meets Weston Bears, and only a supreme optimist would tip the Bears. No doubt, there will be a good crowd at this local derby played at Weston Park, but Newcastle has class players in Craig Johnston, the Middlesbrough starlet, and Ken Boden, the former Doncaster Rovers (England) striker, and will win.

Wednesday night, May 24, at Garside Park, is the date and venue for the Auburn v. Sydney Olympic clash. Auburn, which crushed Arncliffe Scots 8-0 a few weeks ago, has been playing consistently lately, powered by Willie Hamilton, who has national league experience.

Olympic is a defensive team which scores most of its goals from counter attacks. Coach Tom Anderson preaches fitness and strong running, so Olympic's power could be enough to see the side through.

At Adelaide's Hindmarsh Stadium on the same night, the game between Adelaide Juventus, the big-spending national league side, and the plucky Noarlunga Utd., newly-promoted to the S.A. State League, has the makings of a David and Goliath clash.

Noarlunga has covered itself in glory merely by qualifying. The club beat Cumberland, Polonia and Azzurri in preliminary round games, but now has the task of beating mighty Juve.

Eddy Kreft, the Juve team boss, has used 17 players so far this season. Now, he also has Pat McClelland and Graham Fyfe, and is awaiting the return to Australia of John Kosmina, who will guest for Juve during Arsenal's off season.

Juve will win, but defeat will not be a disgrace for Noarlunga.

Azzurri's Jackyly and Hyde form makes it hard to predict the winner of the club's game against Beograd, the curtain-raiser to the Juve/Noarlunga game.

Beograd has Wally Bozicevich, who was with Mooroolbark last season, and he has been getting amongst the goals, while Chris Manolev has been playing well in midfield for Azzurri.

It'll be a tight game, but Beograd is "Soccer Action's" tip.

West Adelaide Hellas travels to Perth on this busy Wednesday night to meet W.A. entrant Ascot.

The Sandpipers are an unknown quantity, but no doubt, David Jones, Hellas' under-23 Australian sweeper, will be able to fill his team-mates in on the ground and the opposition. Jones played most of his soccer in Perth before transferring to Hellas at the start of the 1977 season.

Hellas must be clear favorites to win, as are Brisbane Lions, who are challenged by Annerley at Perry Park.

Other first round games to be played are: South Side Eagles v Eastern Suburbs Hakoah (Perry Park, Brisbane, May 31), Marconi v Croatia Sydney (Marconi Oval, Sydney, May 31), St. George Souths v Brisbane City (Perry Park, Brisbane, June 14), JUST v Sth. Melbourne Hellas (Olympic Park, May 31).

THE END OF UTJESENOVIC

By ALEX VESIC

An argument over the status of Australian soccer in the world has been going on for long enough. We know it and the world knows it. Times are changing and so is the position of Australia on the soccer map of the world.

Who put us on that map?

Rale Rasic and his merry men in the qualifying series for the World Cup and the Cup Finals themselves in 1974.

Who were the men who performed so creditably for Australia, or is it a sin to ask?

Let me tell you a story of one man who took part in the greatest success of Australian soccer on the world stage. His name: Doug Utjesenovic.

After playing some 35 games for OFK Belgrade in the Yugoslav First Division, Utjesenovic found his way to Australia as part of a party of players to join the Melbourne Blues, Yugoslav-backed J.U.S.T.

The Victorian selectors were quick to spot a good player and his name began to appear on the team sheet of the Victorian representative team.

Dougie moved to Sydney after St George decided to acquire the services of the brilliant full back.

Almost eight years ago Doug Utjesenovic joined the St George Budapest club and Dougie proved a great success, not only as a club man but also as a representative player.

In club matches or in a representative fixture, Utjesenovic — Abonyi was well known and respected. Probing runs by Utjesenovic, followed by those curving crosses, and the great anticipation by Abonyi used to highlight many a match of St George and Australia.

Then St George decided to part with Abonyi.

The prodigal son of St George who, like Utjesenovic started his Australian career in Melbourne, was sold for $8000 to State League team Croatia.

Then at the beginning of last season, Mark Jankovic,

Takac grumbles to the Press — then the crunch favorite spot, the near post, or someone tall enough to be served at the far post.

The St George players expected too much of their favourite player. They hoped for much more than mere chip shots and curves from one so much acclaimed as Doug Utjesenovic. Instead of running into those open spaces and looking for the ball the strikers were stationary, giving Doug little to work with.

He asked for the stopper's position at the beginning of the season but it took many poor displays on the right flank before St George coach Ilya Takac decided to give him a stopper's role.

He performed creditably. In two games in the stopper's position Doug found a new lease of life. His anticipation and new-found combination with Brendan Grosche added to the successes in Brisbane and Sydney. The St George defence did not concede a single goal.

I watched his last game for St George against Fitzroy-Alexander and may I tell you that during the 90 minutes against the Melbourne team Doug made only one mistake. St George won convincingly 2-0.

The day before the game, The Sydney Morning Herald ran a story told by Ilya Takac and written by Brian Curran. Takac threatened to cut short a few of his old players' contracts unless they performed well. The name of Utjesenovic was prominent in the article.

The article appeared only a day before the St George game against Alexander.

The following day I was at Barton Park.

Everyone associated with St George is always ever so helpful, so I took a punt on asking Takac my old team mate at Yugal, about the article.

"Did you tell your players beforehand about the intended action against those who do not perform to your liking?" I asked Takac.

"I spoke to them about their poor effort many times, but I feel that if I want to tell the press about those who do not perform, I should be free to do so," was the answer.

Utjesenovic did not know about the article till the following Wednesday. One of his friends called him and pointed out that the article by Brian Curran suggested that Dougie was the cause of St George's downfall.

Utjesenovic checked the information then, furious as a bear, went to training the same night. Verbal exchange followed between Takac and Utjesenovic, the coach stating, "18 players were carrying you all season. What do you expect?"

Utjesenovic apologised to his mates in the St Georges team and left.

Takac, as the coach of the St George team, had the acres to play with. Utjesenovic had the pride of a player who had given St George his best years in soccer.

Neither would back down but the coach had the last say: "Utjesenovic will have to apologise for his actions, abusive language, leaving training without permission etc. . . and face a heavy fine."

Was Takac correct in his approach? I doubt it.

Utjesenovic was a household name in St George and soccer followers all over Australia for more than seven years. He was, injured or not, limping or walking, the pride and joy of the Budapest colours.

Was Takac correct in telling the Press of his intentions, before addressing his players, or more to the point, was he wrong in forgetting his duty towards the ones who had given the green, red and whites everything including blood on the soccer pitch?

FRANKFURT — West German coach Helmut Schoen has made a last-minute change to his World Cup squad, calling in the Bundesliga's top scorer, Dieter Mueller, and leaving out Seliger of Duisburg.

Seliger now says he will never play for Germany again.

In another change, Schoen has dropped Forster of Stuttgart and replaced him with Konopka of Gelnhausen.

Most German fans are angry over the exclusion of Uli Stielke, who now plays in Spain, and Paul Breitner, who has been transferred back to Bayern Munich for Eintracht Braunschweig.

TOULOUSE — France beat Iran 2-1 in an exciting international watched by 30,000 people here.

France was disappointing and the best player on the ground was Iran striker Hassan Rowshan.

France played without Michel Platini who was busy with his club Nancy in the French Cup final against Nice.

Scorers were Gernreich (1-0), Rowshan (1-1) and Sic (2-1).

A touch of genius by Marconi coach Rale Rasic and a brilliant display by speedy Peter Sharne were sufficient to "bag" another two points against an improved St. George team at Bosley Park.

Peter Sharne had the best 45 minutes of the season in the first half, leaving the St. George defence into red and white ribbons every time he touched the ball. Yet it took almost 45 minutes for Marconi to realise it.

With Byrne, Rooney and Selage dominating the midfield, Sharne on the right flank, St. George did very well to keep Marconi out for almost the whole of the first half.

Soon the referee decided it was time for a 10-minute rest, and I am sure that St. George players were received. Marconi dominated play completely taking 14 corners to St. George's two in the first half.

Sharne beat Holm, then his replacement Peter Terry as well as George Harris with ease, creating havoc in the St. George penalty area. With Selage keeping a tight check on Rudolf Gnani, and Marconi dominating the midfield, St. George had a lot to worry about.

England and Liverpool goalkeeper Ray Clemence will fly to Australia next month to lead an ABC panel of commentators in the TV presentation of the World Cup.

Clemence will help promote the ABC's exclusive coverage, which starts with the direct telecast of the opening game between West Germany and Poland on June 2 (our time).

GLASGOW — Scotland, using the British championships as a warm-up for the World Cup, was held to a 1-1 draw by Northern Ireland in the opening game at Hampden Park.

Northern Ireland scored in the 26th minute through Notts Forest midfielder Martin O'Neill and Derek Johnstone equalised with a header 10 minutes later.

Manager Ally MacLeod's experiment of using twin strikers Johnstone and Joe Jordan did not work and Jordan was replaced at half time by Kenny Dalglish.

In the other championship match England beat Wales 3-1 with goals by Bob Latchford, Tony Currie and Peter Barnes.

Scotland's team was: Rough, Jardine, Buchanan, Forsyth, McQueen, Masson, Ritchie, Gemmill, Gordon (Dalglish half time), Johnstone, Robertson.

RECIFE, BRAZIL — Brazil drew 0-0 with club side Pernambuco in a dull match.

Hashty-selected Pernambuco showed more cohesion than Brazil, which has been in training for weeks.

Brazil has injury problems with striker Reinaldo and right back Ze Maria.

HELSINKI — Mexico beat Finland 1-0 here.

Previously, Mexico had beaten West Germany in the 1982 World Cup final.

LIMA — Peru beat Argentina 4-2 here.

Peru led 2-1 at half time. Scorers for Peru were Manante, Obillas (2) and Mosquera.

A few days earlier Peru beat Argentina 1-0 in a friendly match.

In previous matches Peru had beaten Mexico 1-0 and China 2-1 but lost 0-3 to Brazil.

BUENOS AIRES — Argentine's military government has increased security for the World Cup finals following a bomb explosion in the stadium.

A policeman was killed and another seriously injured.

Changes do the trick

By BRUCE WADDELL

Brisbane City's in-and-out form continued at Perry Park, this time on the credit side for home supporters, with a thrilling 3-2 win over a plucky Sydney Olympic.

Coach Denis Ford had made two major changes during the week, dropping the out-of-form midfielder pair Frank Pinblatt to the reserves and Roberto Johnston came back into the centre of the midfield with Larry Gaffney and Ian Fagan and the latter's left flank position went to Brian Kibbey.

The changes made all the difference, enabling City to take advantage of a mediocre Olympic to build up a commanding 3-0 lead 16 minutes into the second half.

City's aggression was made possible by some great front running by right winger Kevin Caldwell, and centre forward Alan Marley, whose perfect opportunism enabled him to snatch City's first two goals.

Right back Savio Iozelli continues to improve and his constant overlapping and a much improved performance by Steve Perry's centre back partner, Peter Tokesi, gave City a much more healthy look at the back.

The first goal came in the 22nd minute, when Fagan's cross from the left was nodded down by Gaffney on the far side of the box.

The elusive Marley ripped in between Stuart Markand and Gary Meier to get a slight but vital touch.

City captured their second goal in a minute from half time, again through Marley.

Coach Tom Anderson reorganised his team with various positional changes, replacing centre forward David McIntosh and rightback Billy Palmer with Bill Stravopoulos and Don Allan.

The latter's introduction later almost became a master stroke as Allan snatched the two goals which gave a relaxing City one heck of a night.

City made it 3-0 and looked like turning the match into a one-way affair 16 minutes after half time when Tokesi powered down the left and fed his winger Willie Conner.

Brisb. C. 3 Olympic 2

Conner left Greg Allan for dead and then rounded Meier before easily slotting his shot home.

But City, after missing a couple of easy chances which would really have wrapped up the match, then slid back into second gear, without noticing that Conner Davouris and Alan Ainslie still had the ability to salvage something for Olympic.

Davouris, who had a much improved season, was the team's main threat, slicing through the backline in the 65th minute and set up Derek Laing, but Kim Wishart came out well to smother the shot.

Seven minutes later, Olympic began on the long trek back when Wishart failed to hold a booming Ainslie drive and Allan tore through to push all past but in the 80th minute when their lead was again cut, this time when Allan brilliantly finished off an Ainslie move down the right.

Zippo Zimmer

German seeks a club

Zippo Zimmer, the black forward of German Second Division Bundesliga club Tennis Borussia, wants to play in Australia.

The 24-year-old goalscorer says he can leave Germany immediately and play guest games until August when he has to return home.

An attacking player with great skill, Zimmer is seeking only the cost of his air fare plus a guaranteed wage.

He is eager to experience life in the Australian national league, but says if no Australian club is interested, he will take up one of several offers from American clubs.

Any club interested in using Zimmer should ring Melbourne 396 2223.

Marconi 2 St. Geo. 1

have been costly, for St. George dominated at least the last 10 minutes, getting very close to the equaliser in the 80th minute. John O'Shea ran to the left flank, then centred to an unmarked Neville Morgan. The tall striker made a mess of it, scooping the ball over the bar only five metres from Maher's goal line.

For Marconi, Maher did not have much to do, while Prasko, Jente and Russell had their hands full with Phil O'Connor. Degney was prominent with his great runs down the left flank, while Marconi's midfield completely outplayed their St. George counterparts.

Stuart Selage, given the difficult task of marking Gnani, played himself into the turn.

Not only did he completely shut Gnani out of the game but was so prominent in the Marconi attacks every time the opportunity presented itself.

Williams, Rooney, as well as Byrne, seemed at least a metre faster than their opponents, while Mariani and Sharne formed a formidable attacking duo that will sink many more teams before the end of the competition.

For St. George, the show depended on the performance of Gnani in midfield and Phil O'Connor up front. While O'Connor had a fairly good game, Gnani, I am sure, will try to forget this one in a hurry.

Morgan, Groase and John O'Shea played well, while the rest contributed enough to keep the score down to a mere goal difference.

Henderson gets hat-trick

Who are going to be the State League giants in the Phillips Cup? Not Canberra Federals, but West Woden Juventus.

Canberra City effected their Juventus' exit last Wednesday under the floodlights of Queanbeyan's Seiffert Oval.

The scoreline was 4-0 in Canberra's favour. Behind the result lay the incidental gap between State and Phillips League soccer.

Juventus struggled gallantly — but they lacked the fitness and overall control of their Phillips League 'big brothers'.

But Canberra City made unnecessarily hard work of achieving the vital break-through of the first goal.

Juventus held them to a blank score sheet for 50 minutes. In doing so they covered themselves in glory.

Filian imports Ernie Johns and Yula Wale had strong games as did long-serving Juventus player, George Campbell.

Englishman Colin Winslade was resolute in his classic English centre-half 'stopper' role and teenaged keeper, Gerald Sarrafian showed great potential.

But once the first goal came it was the end.

It came in the 51st minute from a magnificent 35-metre drive by Tony Henderson.

It was the personal flip an off-form Henderson needed for he went on to achieve his first hat-trick for the club.

Canberra's other goal-scorer was Ivan Grulic.

In fairness to City the game was played in atrocious weather — it rained almost throughout — and the pitch was waterlogged.

City treated it very much as a strong practice match, even though they fielded their strongest side, including Peter Marinello. Four days later, of course, they had to face Sydney's Hakoah in Sydney. — PETER WINDSOR.

Juventus next for Alexander

By Laurie Schwab

Although Alexander should have beaten Lions, there will have to be more support for Branko Buljevic if it is to beat powerful Adelaide Juventus at Middle Park on Saturday.

The big game will be preceded at 1:30 pm by an exhibition game between the Press and a group of Greek entertainers.

With a bit of luck Buljevic could have beaten Lions single-handedly. He was just off target with two headers and was fouled when goalkeeper Nigel Lownds dived at his feet.

In the first half, he headed the ball down to the feet of teammate Gary Cole who faced an open goal, but Cole misjudged from eight metres.

In the second half, a ball was coming square to Buljevic inside the penalty area. He could have scored but he let the ball go. To Buljevic's disgust, Campbell missed that ball altogether.

Andy Bozika buzzed about Cole in attack, but Cole was embarrassingly out of touch. Not a thing he did came right.

In the fourth minute, for example, Bozika stormed forward in a break with Cole running free on the right. Bozika released the ball at the right time — when he had reached the defenders, but who did Cole do? He gave it straight back to the surrounded Bozika, even though he had acres of open space in front of him.

Then Cole outran George Potter in a race to goal, but shot much too early, making it easy for Lownds.

Cole's mistakes are too numerous to list, but he had played his usual sound game, there is no doubt Alexander would have won.

As for this week's game, Alexander will face a team featuring John Kosmina, Pat McCluskey, Graham Fyfe, Agner, Jim Muir, John Ferin, Bugy Nykhus and Frank Lister to name only a few.

McCluskey (ex-Gellic) and Fyfe (ex-Hangers) are both guest players from Scottish club Dumbarton and are reportedly getting $450 a game from Juventus.

Brisbane Lions do not play this week. Their scheduled match against Footscray J.U.S.T. has been postponed because

Alexander 0 Lions 0

Queensland meets Dundee in Brisbane on Sunday.

Getting back to last Sunday's game, it was surprising to see Buljevic get so much of the ball in the air. With Jim Hermiston doing the covering work in defence, it was Col Bennett's job to pick up the dangerous man, but the big Socorro gave Buljevic much too much room.

Lions had come to Melbourne obviously intent on playing for at least a draw.

The defence and midfield were unadventurous, leaving the forwards with little support, although it must be said that central striker Barrie Fairbrother did little to help himself.

Paul Laslo, on the other hand, went from wing to wing looking for the ball, getting it and trying to do something imaginative with it.

However, it was largely due to goalkeeper Lownds that Lions achieved their draw.

In the second half Lownds dived at the feet of Buljevic and Mike Micevski to save two possible goals.

Then he made his best save of the game by stopping a strong header by Jim O'Reilly after a cross by Jim Tansey.

Both Tansey and the other full back, Arthur McMillan, had sound games for Alexander, whereas centre backs Bob Provan and O'Reilly had very little to do.

Lions' only dangerous scoring attack came from headers by Alan Hughes and John Neale in the first half.

About two minutes from the end, Fairbrother got clear in a Lions counter-attack which could have decided the match.

But he wasted the scoring opportunity by feeding an awkward ball to Neale who had difficulty in controlling it before releasing it to Laslo. In the time it all took, Alexander's defenders had hurried back, and Laslo's final shot was too weak anyway.

Alexander replaced captain Pat Bannon at half time. Bannon said after the game he had pulled a leg muscle.

Hogmanor will scare Hellas

By FRANK PANGALLO

Bolestered by its four imports, a formidable Adelaide Juventus had to be content with a draw against South Melbourne Hellas at Olympic Sports Field.

However, Juventus would argue that dubious refereeing by Jim Johnston probably cost them a vital victory.

Indeed, Johnston's interpretations were utterly confusing on many occasions but one in particular robbed Juventus of what appeared to be a blatant penalty 26 minutes into the game. Graham Fyfe, one of the new players from Dumbarton, was swept off his feet well inside the area, but referee Johnston signalled an indirect free-kick.

With Juventus trailing by a goal score of 1-0, it was a crucial decision at a critical stage.

Juventus coach Edmund Kretl faced against the after-effects of jet lag and fielded Fyfe and Socorro John Kosmina while Pat McCluskey, ex-Gellic, spent the first half watching the proceedings from the bench.

Big Jim "Jimbo" Muir, the Dumbarton skipper who arrived in Australia a fortnight ago, joined stopper Frank Lister in defence and, since he had only almost led Juventus to victory.

Kretl's gamble looked set to come unstuck during the first half as there seemed to be some uncertainty between the regulars and the new faces.

While Fyfe had an impressive first half on the right wing, Kosmina wasn't being let adequately up front and had to contend with two defenders snapping at his heels all day.

In the first half, it seemed both sides were adopting a similar approach to on-field tactics and it resulted in negative play in mid-field where neither side could dictate terms.

Although Juventus looked as stylish as always, it was Hellas who took the initiative in the 16th minute.

Speedy George Campbell lobbed a free kick into the area and found the head of unmarked Christopoulos, who sent the ball wide of Juventus' goal.

As always, it was Hellas who took the initiative in the 16th minute. "Speedy" George Campbell lobbed a free kick into the area and found the head of unmarked Christopoulos, who sent the ball wide of Juventus' goal.

However, Juventus keeper Roger Romanowicz.

But unfortunately for Hellas, it was one of the few occasions Campbell was sighted and his brilliance was stifled by Bugy Nykhus' tight marking.

Big Peter Orlerton had his hands full trying to cope with Lister and Muir, leaving midfielder Billy Rogers with the burden of trying to carry an attack.

Juventus brought Agner Muniz on at half time in place of Gary Marocchi and the move sparked an incredible period of attacks which almost sent the visitors reeling.

Pat McCluskey

that's why he presented to the club a figure he knew we could not come up with.

Mendo himself has said he does not want to leave J.U.S.T. and we certainly do not want to lose him.

It just hope his relatives will come to see that Mendo's future is with J.U.S.T. He has been with us for so long that we regard him as part of the family.

Hopefully, the matter can still be settled. If not, J.U.S.T. will lose a valuable player.

Ristovski is in the Australian squad to meet Greece in Melbourne next month.

He has been with J.U.S.T. since he was 10.

Against Newcastle, J.U.S.T. started brilliantly, with Jim Kondarios having a header held by goalkeeper Phil Dando, and Joe Palinkas hitting the crossbar.

Then Ristovski played it square to Vasic in another break, but Vasic failed to score because he wasn't quick enough in following up a Ristovski shot which Dando could only parry.

But after half time, J.U.S.T. collapsed. The team was left with only four players — Kondarios, Ploceane, Mike Rujovic and Dennis Boland — who showed any semblance of the form one has come to expect from J.U.S.T.

Newcastle, on the other hand, played extremely well.

Their players were first to the ball and they tackled hard and clean.

Roy Drinkwater, who had broken up so many attacks with timely tackles when J.U.S.T. was playing well, continued his good work, complemented by the aerial supremacy of Bill Summercales and the tenaciousness of full backs Peter Willis and Col Curran.

Craig Johnston was a winner in midfield, although he sometimes overdid his fancy footwork, and Bob Mountford was excellent up front showing commendable aplomb in also dropping right back to help his defence.

Ken Boden once again showed what an excellent player he is at centre forward, and he must have been pleased that he had so much support this time.

Henry Kolecki came into it more in the second half, and more importantly so did "Jimbo" Muir, who caused chaos with his long dashes into attack.

Muir repeatedly pumped balls high and while it didn't help ground forwards Johnny Nykhus and Kosmina, the tactics almost devastated Hellas.

Kosmina, in one of the rare occasions he was left unmarked, had a golden opportunity one minute into the second half when he burst clear and dashed toward an open goal.

Hellas keeper John Hansen did well to block Kosmina's shot but the ball rebounded to the young Arsenal player who steered to head the ball into the empty goal.

But Margarith Hagenmuller, who played extremely well throughout, came from nowhere to sweep the ball off the line and save Hellas.

Perceptive Agner Muniz played a major part in Juventus' equaliser in the 60th minute.

As he was about to take a free kick outside the area, Muir made a dash into the box and Muniz superbly guided the ball to the head of the lanky Scot, who sent it into the roof of the net.

McCluskey replaced Fyfe, who had run himself ragged, midway through the half but despite constant sorties, Hellas were able to absorb all that was thrown at them.

Remarkably, Juventus coach Kretl wasn't too pleased with the result because, he claimed, his players didn't carry out his half-time orders.

"I wanted them to build up attacks and play the ball down the wings but they persisted with pumping long balls," Kretl argued.

"We were fortunate that they worked out well for us but we could have been in a more comfortable position had they done what was asked of them."

Juventus' journey to Melbourne this week to face Fitzroy and South Melbourne has been a roller coaster ride.

ponents in coming weeks. Campbell crossing to Billy Rogers, who sent the ball into the path of Simao.

The frizzy-coiffured African blasted a first-time volley which had Tando going the wrong way, but rebounded into play off his foot.

The final nail in the coffin of Canberra was the glorious goal of Simoes in the 88th minute, confirming his "man of the match" standing.

It was hard to get the bitterly disappointed Johnny Warren to talk after the match, which most pundits tipped to be his before the kick-off.

For almost half an hour he was closeted with his players behind locked doors and one can only surmise what passed between them.

In only their second year of existence Canberra's players offer a credible challenge to any club in the league, but there are some weaknesses in the forwards, which could delay their further advance up the competition table.

Warren faces a cruel dilemma, as the money is not available, he claims, to venture into the local transfer market.

In spite of a conscious policy of encouraging local youngsters, the City supremo may be tempted to look overseas.

Hakoah, on the other hand, looked as if it believed the stern words of their technical director Andrew Lederer, who told the players no other club has the same amount of talent at its disposal.

His words gain added weight if we realise that Todd Clarke, Terry Smith and Alan Kenner have even among the reserves because of their injuries.

Only six minutes passed before Kevin Mullen sliced through City's last line, calmly slipping the ball to the unmarked Campbell.

The former Marconi goal-grabber dribbled past the advancing Tiled and slotted the ball into the net, out of the reach of two desperately lunging defenders.

Brazilian ball artist Silva was also doing great things on the wing when he was even closer soon after, when he hit the left upright.

Just four minutes from full-time the three strikers produced a moment of magic that bodes ill for opponents in coming weeks.

Hakoah is mighty again

By PETER SCOTT

A midweek replenishment of its playing staff gave Hakoah the confidence to get back on the winning list, but only after overcoming dogged resistance by visiting Canberra City for more than half the match.

Horried by the inflationary trends in the local soccer market, Hakoah officials in recent weeks quietly, in fact almost secretly, looked overseas for new blood.

Apart from recent recruit Ian Soumeas, formerly on the books of Chelsea with the famed London club's Football Combination (reserve) team, the Blues welcomed two new arrivals last week.

Simao Anthonio da Silva, playing under the tag of Simao, a 21-year old striker from Portuguese Second Division club Beira Mar.

Native of the Cape Verde Islands off the West Coast of Africa, Simao has been signed from the same team which allowed him to appear last year by the immensely skilful Manecas.

Mark Trenter, a tall striker from West Bromwich Albion, who had been on the verge of first team selection for some time. He is also in his early twenties.

In addition, Hakoah obtained the free transfer of former Marconi and Socorro goalie Bill Rork, who is making a comeback after dropping out of senior soccer for a while.

Former Hakoah captain Greg Lynch is also back on the Blues books following a period on loan to Olympic.

Against this strengthened squad, with the added confidence it produced, Canberra City fielded its Scottish guest Peter Marinello, who was a smash hit against Marconi in his debut.

As it turned out, that proved to be the turning point, as Hakoah players gradually found their stride, none better than Soumeas.

He was a human dynamo, covering huge tracts of Wentworth Park, turning in an impeccable midfield display and holding out promise of a brilliant career in Aussie soccer — if only he can keep this up.

At the moment of glory was to come later, however, as it was Steve O'Connor who barreled through on the blind side to hammer home the opening goal from a Barnes back header in the 68th minute.

Seeing its coveted point slipping away, Canberra decided to come out of its shell, paradoxically enlivening its own defence.

Suddenly the Hakoah attack found more space to move and, coupling this with the abandonment of a sterile run-down-the-wing, high-cross type of game, proceeded to carve up the visiting defence, with meticulous care and apparent relish.

Only six minutes passed before Kevin Mullen sliced through City's last line, calmly slipping the ball to the unmarked Campbell.

The former Marconi goal-grabber dribbled past the advancing Tiled and slotted the ball into the net, out of the reach of two desperately lunging defenders.

Brazilian ball artist Silva was also doing great things on the wing when he was even closer soon after, when he hit the left upright.

SYDNEY CAN'T SUPPORT FIVE TEAMS

There's little doubt that the crowds of South Melbourne Hellas, Newcastle and Canberra are keeping the Philips League respectable this year.

Take away the attendances of these big three, and you have a very sorry picture indeed.

With the exception of some crowds at Marconi's and Olympic's games and the slightly increased support for Footscray J.U.S.T., most other clubs have actually lost support.

Most disappointing have been the two Brisbane and the two Adelaide clubs.

Despite some good soccer being played by Lions, the Brisbane crowds have fallen off sharply. Lions even had to experiment with Saturday night games in an effort to attract more people.

Adelaide Juventus, which has the best-supported club in the league last season, is not doing nearly as well and neither is West Adelaide Hellas.

Sydney clubs St. George, Hakoah and Western Suburbs are drawing ridiculously small crowds.

and Fitzroy Alexander's crowds are noticeably down but likely to grow now that the team is starting to move off the bottom of the ladder.

Notwithstanding my opposition to the way Mooroolbark was ousted last year, it must be said that Newcastle has proved an excellent replacement crowd-wise. Whereas Mooroolbark had almost non-existent support, Newcastle has been attracting crowds around 7000 regularly.

For the game against Alexander, for example, Newcastle's attendance was double that of the rival Rugby League fixture.

Newcastle has always been a strong soccer centre. Now it looks like becoming to the Philips League what Newcastle United is to the English League, Frankfurt to the German League and Eintracht to the Dutch League. Likewise Canberra. Securing Bruce Stadium has done wonders for soccer in Canberra. No other sport there attracts crowds as big as Canberra City's Promotion also had a lot to do with it. Canberra City's board of management and Johnny Warren have come up with extremely productive promotional exercises. The value of which was proved yet again when 8000 turned up to watch the scoreless draw with Marconi.

From a financial point of view, Canberra and Newcastle are becoming stronger and stronger, meaning they will be able to field stronger and stronger teams. It wouldn't surprise me if these two battle it out for the championship in a couple of seasons' time.

But of course they will always get strong competition from South Melbourne Hellas, whose financial resources seem limitless. A winning Hellas team will always draw around 7000 and 8000 people for a good game on Sunday. For exceptional occasions like the top-of-the-table clash against Marconi, for example, Hellas can expect well over 10,000, which adds up to around $30,000 in hard cash.

Only time will tell whether the success of Newcastle and Canberra means that soccer's future lies even more away from the big cities.

Certainly it is now painfully obvious that Sydney cannot support five Philips League clubs.

Either the number of Sydney clubs has to be whittled down, or one of them must be established in Wollongong, which has a lot of potential crowd-wise.

On the other hand, there are a couple of clubs in lower leagues which would command much bigger attendances than some of the established Sydney teams in the Philips League.

RALE RASIC

Spectator violence broke out for the first time this season in the NSW State League and as a result the match between Avala and Yugal was abandoned after only 14 minutes.

The match at Mona Park was 14 minutes old when fighting started among spectators. Women and children spilled out onto the field in an attempt to get away from hailing fists and boots.

Referee Henry Wischnge took the players from the field and ordered them to their dressing room.

A dozen police were rushed to the ground and arrested two spectators.

The situation was calmed down but Wischnge decided to abandon the game in the interests of players, officials and supporters' safety.

Yugal has a strong Yugoslav following and Avala a big Macedonian support.

The fight allegedly started when derogatory comments were made about the nationality of players in one of the benches.

Police were able to calm the situation and there were no further incidents as the crowd left the ground in an orderly way.

There had been no score in the match when it was abandoned.

A last minute goal by Bob McGinn won APFA a lacklustre match 1-0 against Auburn at Lambert Park.

Klaus Fischer: survived bribery scandal to become succ

"I don't know why you Germans are always lamenting about having lost Gerd Mueller," said Mexican defender Javier Guzman after Germany had come back from two goals down to draw 2-2 with Mexico last year.

"This Klaus Fischer is one of the most dangerous centre forwards I've ever played against."

Fischer had just scored the two goals that deprived Mexico of what would have been the country's most notable victory. Klaus Fischer, born on December 27, 1949 in the village of Kreutstrassel, has inherited the centre forward position from "Bomber" Gerd Mueller and his predecessor Uwe Seeler.

Like Mueller and Seeler, Fischer is Germany's match-winner.

Fischer joined TSV Muenchen 1860 in 1967. From 1968 to 1970 he was one of the youngest strikers in the Bundesliga yet he still scored 28 goals in 60 games over those two seasons.

When TSV was relegated, Fischer transferred to Schalke 04 and from a $100 a week contract he was on the way to an eventually $100,000-a-year agreement.

Fischer is now captain of Schalke and has survived to become a star of the national team despite the Bielefeld bribery scandal, which threatened him with life suspension from football.

It happened in the 1970-71 season. Arminia Bielefeld, previously a certain candidate for relegation, saved itself from the drop by beating Schalke 1-0 six weeks before the end of the season.

At the end of the season it was discovered that an Arminia player had offered the Schalke players about $15,000 to let Arminia win.

The guilty Schalke players went to high sporting and civil courts and Fischer, who had been Schalke's top scorer with 15 goals for the season, put fines totalling about $3500.

The Soccer Federation suspended him for two years but in 1973, after an appeal, the ban was cut to one year. The federation had also decided that none of the players involved in the scandal should ever be picked to play for Germany. It wasn't until January, 1977 that the federation decided that each of the culprits should make a donation of $4000 to cancer research and be free to continue their League and international careers. "And so Fischer was out two years and spent six months from lawyer to lawyer, court hearing, appeal to appeal. Of the bribery incident, made a ridiculous error. I suppose I didn't think and what I now know to have been a culpable mistake.

"We were clearly the better dressing room before against Arminia, the older me we had agreed to let. I received a sum of money and stayed up and Kicke

GERMANY B FOUR TIMES

No team in the world has been as consistently successful over the past 12 years as West Germany, holder of the World Cup.

In fact, Germany has not been out of the World Cup limelight since winning the trophy in an upset result against Hungary in Switzerland in 1954.

Look at the Germans' record: placed third, 1958, quarter-finalist in 1962, losing finalist, 1966; third in 1972; World Cup winner 1974.

Now Germany has the best chance yet of becoming the first European team to win the Cup in South America.

Indeed, Germany rates with Brazil and Argentina as one of the three Cup favorites despite the loss of Franz Beckenbauer, Paul Breitner, Uli Hoessner, Wolfgang Overath, Juergen Grabowski and Gerd Mueller who were all in the winning team of 1974.

Germany's ability to replace these stars and still win demonstrates quite clearly that no country can match the depth of German football.

However, Germany's program of lead-up practice games started badly with a 0-1 loss to France in Paris in February, 1977, and ended badly with successive losses to Brazil and Sweden in April this year.

There have been 15 warm-up games. Results were: v France (Paris) 0-1, v Northern Ireland (Cologne) 5-0, v Yugoslavia (Belgrade) 2-1, v Argentina (Buenos Aires) 3-1, v Uruguay (Montevideo) 2-0, v Brazil (Rio) 1-1, v Mexico (Mexico City) 2-2, v Finland (Helsinki) 1-0, v Italy (West Berlin) 2-1, v Switzerland (Stuttgart) 4-1, v Wales (Dortmund) 1-1, v England (Munich) 2-1, v USSR (Frankfurt) 1-0, v Brazil (Hamburg) 0-1, v Sweden (Stockholm) 1-3.

German manager Helmut Schoen is sure the recent setbacks are only temporary. He argues it is better to have problems now, when there is time to solve them, than during the finals themselves.

And Schoen reminds us of what he said even before the 2-1 win against England: "Against opposition as strong as England, Russia, Brazil and Sweden we can even afford to lose a game or two. We have been beaten only twice since winning the World Cup." Now, of course, Germany has lost four times since 1974 — to England, France, Brazil and Sweden.

Schoen has diligently used every practice game to analyse his team's strengths and weaknesses, to experiment here and there, to get things right for Argentina. Against England, for example, he had no intention of fielding his best side, asking left back Bernhard Dietz to stand down, so that the improving Herbert Zimmermann of Cologne could be tried out.

Let's not forget that Germany beat England — a re-emerging force under Ron Greenwood — despite the absence of Klaus Fischer who was ill, and the injuries during the match to Heinz Flohe and Herbert Neumann.

One wing position and one midfield post are generally considered to be still open in the national team.

Those definitely in the line-up on recent form are: goalkeeper Sepp Maier, right back Rudi Vogts, centre backs Rudi Ruessmann and Manfred Kaltz, left back Bernhard Dietz, midfielders Heinz Flohe and Rainer Bonhof, right winger Ruediger Abramczik and striker Klaus Fischer.

The remaining midfielder will be Erich Beer, Bernd Gulmann or Bernd Hoenlein and the other winger probably Karl-Heinz Rummenigge.

However, it is traditional here that the national team undergoes extensive changes in the weeks before and even during the World Cup.

History speaks for itself on that point.

Ten weeks before the 1954 World Cup final in Bern, Germany beat Switzerland 3-1 in Basle with the following team: Kubsch, Retter (Kohlmeyer), Laband, Eckel, Posipal, Mai, Hermann (B. Klotz), Morlock, Ottmar Walter, Fritz Walter, Schafer.

Yet the team for the 3-2 victory over Hungary in the Cup final was: Turek, Posipal, Kohlmeyer, Eckel, Liebrich, Mai, Rahn, Morlock, Ottmar Walter, Fritz Walter, Schafer — only six (including first-game substitute Kohlmeyer) had survived those 10 weeks.

Eight weeks before the 1966 final in England, Germany beat Rumania 1-0 in Ludwigshafen 1-0 with a goal by Seeler. The team was: Tilkowski, Lutz, Schnellinger, Szyniak, Weber, Hottiges, Grabowski (Held), Ulass, Seeler, Overath, Hornig.

Of these 12, only seven remained in the final, if one counts Held. The team in the final against England was: Tilkowski, Hottiges, Schnellinger, Beckenbauer, Schulz, Seeler, Held, Emmerich, Cullmann, Hoeness (Flohe), Wimmer (Hoenlein), Grabowski, G. Mueller, E. Krenners.

In the World Cup final against Holland on July 7, in Munich, the team was: Maier, Vogts, Schwarzenbeck, Beckenbauer, Breitner, Bonhof, Hoeness, Overath, Grabowski, Mueller, Hoenlein.

In the context of that background, one wonders how the German team will Fischer celebrated his return to the national team by scoring twice in Germany's 5-0 win over Northern Ireland on April 27, 1977 in Cologne.

He finished the 1977 season as fourth highest scorer in the Bundesliga, with 24 goals — 18 scored with headers.

Franz Beckenbauer had long tipped Fischer to become the best centre forward since Gerd Mueller, and so Fischer set about proving it by scoring five of Germany's eight goals on the South American tour last year, despite being rested from the 2-0 win over Uruguay.

Of Germany's World Cup chances, he says: "Our 3-1 win against Argentina in Buenos Aires and subsequent victories have shown that we can get along without Franz Beckenbauer and that had been worrying everyone — players, officials and the public."

"If I'm not very much mistaken, we'll be coming home after keeping the World Cup. Our main rivals will be Holland, Argentina and Brazil."

To win, Germany will need goals from Fischer, and he has proved he can get those goals. After all he is the third highest scorer in Bundesliga history, after Gerd Mueller and Jupp Heynckes.

When he was replaced by R. Schwarzenbeck of Bayern Munich, but Schwarzenbeck proved only he remains a stopper, not a forward.

strong midfield is one's No. 1 priority, due to the loss of Beckenbauer. "When there is dominating schemer, then such duties are spread over three in midfield," said Boer.

Germany's best performance in recent games was a 2-1 victory over Italy in Berlin on October 8, 1977, a performance that England manager Graham Taylor gushed: "It was an education. I saw champagne football, it was different to what you see in England every week. I go taken with it that I'd be surprised to come to Germany and see matches like every week."

was a perfect example of brilliance. Germany is able of — a shining moment to the golden age of national football that began in the 1972 European championship, and during the 1974 World Cup. The club championship dominating European era. In 1976 Beckenbauer elected European XI and by 70 international tallists for the Yugoslav "Sport" included four names — Vogts, Beckenbauer, Bonhof and Gerd Mueller.

The squad

West Germany's final 22-man World Cup squad is:

Goalkeepers: Maier (Bayern Munich), Kargus (Hamburg), Burdinski (Werder Bremen).

Defenders: Vogts (Duisburg), Zimmermann (Cologne), Kaltz (Hamburg), Ruesmann (Schalke), Schwarzenbeck (Bayern Munich), Tenhagen (Bochum), Konopka (Cologne), Midfielders: Bonhof (Moenchengladbach), Flohe (Cologne), Cullmann (Cologne), Boer (Herta BSC), H. Mueller (VfB Stuttgart).

Forwards: Abramczik (Schalke), Fischer (Schalke), Rummenigge (Bayern Munich), Hoelzenbein (Frankfurt), Worm (Duisburg), D. Mueller (Cologne).

There are also many who disagree with Breiter's opinion that Germany is declining. Of 12 Argentinian national team players questioned, seven are convinced that Germany will retain the World Cup, while only four believe Argentina can win it, and one tips Brazil.

Berti Vogts believes that Manfred Kaltz will prove a good replacement for Beckenbauer as sweeper and Klaus Fischer as good a goalscorer as Gerd Mueller.

He therefore feels West Germany can retain the Cup, although no European team has ever won it in South America.

Germany's first finals game is against Poland on June 1, and predictably, Schoen regards Poland as his only threat in the first round.

In 10 games against Poland, Germany has won seven and drawn three with a goal tally of 19-6.

Against Mexico, the Germans have achieved one win and two draws, scoring seven goals to two, but they have never met Tunisia, their other opponent in Group Two.

Polish derby to race, thanks to

First Division

ARDEER 2 (Kolanowicz, Wrobel) POLONIA 1 (Koter). ARDEER: Dorch, Polinski, Sewak, Czernicki, Kuzni, Kupisz, Upiarski, Dykun, Kolanowicz, Wrobel.

POLONIA: Sorokowski, Wsola, J. Dimirliou, J. Pater, Gawlik, Horzinek, Herman, P. Czupnik, W. Klain, Koter, Espesio, Sub. Laski 70th.

Ardeer hit the front through Kolanowicz in the 10th minute of this Polish derby.

The equaliser came in the 25th minute when Polonia was awarded a penalty after Mike Olinowski had held Joe Herman by the shirt.

Peter Czupnik's spot kick bounced off the bar but Tom Koter followed up to put it into the net.

In the second half, the ball bounced off a post before Eddy Wrobel scored but Polonia came close to getting an equaliser when Koter hit the side netting and a shot by Gawlik was finger-tipped over by goalkeeper Dorch.

BOX HILL 1 (Weslyk 76th min.) WESTERN SUBURBS 1 (Stergiou 35th min.)

BOX HILL: Morgan, 6, Lapsch, 6, Corke, 8, Cupido, 6, Hall 8 (Horne 86th min.), Ramos 5 (Murray 86th min.), Walsky, 7, McLeod, 6, Sherman, 7, Tuffield, 5, Taylor 6.

SUBURBS: Mitandis, 8, Stogiannou 6, Kyprilidis 75th min.), Jaworski 8, Gyiakalamos 8, Daglis 5, Moore 7, Karapatsos 6, Skoris 7, Stergiou 7, Theodoridis 7, (Patsalos 71st min.)

Western Suburbs dropped a valuable point against Box Hill and now faces the daunting task of having to make up five points on Croynoid if the club is to win promotion.

Suburbs controlled the game until 20 minutes from time when the team's key players began to tire, paving the way for a spirited comeback by the Hillmen.

A tight defence and a dominating midfield were Wests' strong points, but the side's supremacy in these departments was not to avail as the forward line was non-existent.

Full back Kerry Hall was the best of the Box Hill players, and along with Paul Corke, kept the Hillmen in the game when Wests was on top.

Wests had plenty of good build up, and swung the ball around in the middle of the park.

The Suburbs front line didn't have the bite or thrust to make use of the good service it got from the team's midfield of Andy Czupnik, Steve Moore and Mark Karapatsos, all of whom played well, but should be prepared to attack more and take responsibility for scoring goals.

The Box Hill midfield had only Aukie Walsky playing well. Pedro Ramos was consistently caught in possession because of his lack of pace, and Ian McLeod's passing let him down.

Wests' goal came from a breakaway. The scorer, Lou Stergiou, was lucky the linesman didn't notice that he was standing a yard beyond the last defender when the ball was kicked to him. However, despite the fact that he may have been outside, Stergiou scored the ball past Graham Morgan stylishly.

Hill hung on, despite being given the run-around by Wests, and came right into the game near the end. Wests' keeper Alex Mitandis had to make several good saves, and centre half Mike Gyiakalamos stopped many Box Hill attacks with timely tackles.

The Hillmen got their equaliser when Walsky jumped well and powerfully headed home a corner.

Victorian Metro and Provisional Leagues

The last 20 minutes belonged to Box Hill, but George Theodoridis had a great chance to give Wests the two points when the ball fell to him five yards out. With an open net staring him in the face, Theodoridis blazed the ball over the crossbar. Coach Tony Vrzina substituted him soon after.

It was a good point for Box Hill to get after the team's dismal performance against Kellor City last week, and gives the Hillmen something to build on in preparation for the clash with Croynoid City in two weeks.

DOVETON 5 (Sullivan 2, Spears, Roderick, McMinime) SPRINGVALE 3 (Deane 2, Luca).

DOVETON: Riess, Taylor, Donnelly, Thurlow, Kingley, Sullivan half time (McElhinney 65th min.), Bray, Roderick, McMinime, Murray, Spears, Cautts.

In a hectic second half, Doveton came back after being down 3-1 at the interval and scored four goals and had two disallowed.

Doveton's hero was Peter Sullivan, who came on at half time and scored two goals. However, Sullivan was injured in the process of scoring his second goal, and was carried off the field.

Springvale had dominated the first half, but there was no stopping Doveton in the second half as the team powered its way to its second win this season.

Goal for Doveton was Billy Spears, while Dora Deane played well for Vale. Doveton is eagerly waiting the arrival of Steven Irvine, the brother of Frankston City's Sandy Irvine, the former Australian and Victorian international.

Steven has recently completed a season with Aberdeen East, which went down the season undefeated. He's a striker, and like his brother is well built and fast (6ft 3in). He's 20-years-old, four goals and had two disallowed.

CROYDON 4 AUSTRIA 0. The game, which was to have been played at Kellor-Austria's ground, was switched to Croynoid Park on Friday due to rain. The game was refereed by Kellor Council.

A good crowd, considering the short notice, turned out to see Croynoid put together two good halves of soccer against a team that was better than their position on the ladder would indicate.

Indeed it took Croynoid 35 minutes to open the scoring and up until then Kellor had looked most likely to score.

The move was built up on the left and the ball squared across the front of the area where Duncan Smith gathered and fired in a hard low shot.

The Kellor goalkeeper could not hold it and the ever-alert Roy Hamilton was following in and netted the loose ball, and from then on Croynoid were rarely in trouble.

On the tick of half time Croynoid forced a corner on the left wing and Pat Lowry's deep cross found full back Mick Sinclair who had moved up and headed down for Charlie Kelly to score.

At the 15-minute mark of the second half Jim Wylie was put away down the middle, he outpaced the defence and slipped a nicely placed shot just inside of the diving goalkeeper to give Croynoid a 3-0 lead.

Pat Lowry headed home the fourth goal, 23 minutes after the break.

With the game well in hand coach Mike Plunkett substituted Roy Hamilton with Geoff Gerrish and a little later Tommy Kelly with Mark Brown, and although the score remained 4-0 the boys showed just how much depth Croynoid have to fall back on.

As the game drew to its conclusion Jim Blacker who had regained his place in the team when Charlie Murphy was declared unfit showed he had lost none of his skills. He initiated and finished a great move up the left wing with Jim Wylie in the area. The move however was not rewarded with the goal it deserved as Wylie's shot skimmed just over the bar.

The Croynoid reserves ran out 2-0 winners in an entertaining curtain raiser. Second half goals by Mark Brown and Graham Feder gave the Croynoid youngsters their third win of the season.

Next Saturday Croynoid are at home to Ardeer.

CROYDON: M. Edwards, T. Kelly, C. Kelly, J. Wylie, M. Sinclair, M. Brown, (77th min.), P. Lowry, A. Pongho, D. Smith, R. Hamilton, J. McCombe, J. Smith, G. Gerrish (70th min.)

Second Division FOOTSCRAY/U.S.T. 3 (Balic, own goal Paganis, Kazanovsk) PORT MELBOURNE 1 (Alexiou).

FOOTSCRAY/U.S.T. won much convincingly than the score indicates.

There was only one team in it, although Port Melbourne took a surprise lead from the free kick in the second minute. J.U.S.T. players recovered quickly from the shock goal but it took them quite a long time to capitalise on their territorial advantage.

In the 32nd minute Vlado Balic hit a magnificent ground shot from 20 yards which rocketed into the net through the diving goalkeeper's hands. In the 38th minute J.U.S.T. took the lead after a defender deflected a corner kick into the Port Melbourne net.

After that goal J.U.S.T. had very little trouble winning at Schindler Reserve. Milan Kazanovsk scored his first goal for J.U.S.T. in the second half from a very difficult angle. He also launched some superb crosses, but J.U.S.T.'s forwards failed to connect.

FOOTSCRAY/U.S.T. Stefanides 7, Grbac 7, Karic 7, Dimovski 7, Cankovic 7, Akeski 7, Balic 8, Vicio 6 (L. Talevski 7), Zargia 6, Petreski 7, Kazanovsk 8.

FEARNET GULLY 0 KNOX CITY 1. Scorers: Shrivley Bedford (20th min.) KNOX: D. McMan, M. Shuttleworth, D. Bailey, J. Bedford, C. Milne, J. Williams, P. Flynn, J. Howarth, S. Atkins, E. McConville, S. Pongho.

Knox City made head work of the early half, scoring a goal at Fearnety Gully. Playing with the wind and having a goal 90% of the first half game Knox should have been more than 1-0 up.

Knox attacked incessantly from the kick off.

With the Gully continually pinned down it was only a matter of time before Knox scored and it came at the 20 minute mark. Another good corner by Steve Atkins was met and firmly headed in by Johnny Bedford at the far post.

With only one goal the difference Gully were always in the game and as Knox City attack remained fruitless in the second half the Gully were more confident of levelling the score, particularly in the last 20 minutes.

MORELAND 2 ELTHAM 0. Scorers: Ferretter (37th and 42nd min.)

MORELAND: Debutjugh Duncanson, Kelly, Balch, Appleyard, Brasil, Katz, Raffalce, Ferretter, Marshall, Evans, Joe Abonyi, Peter Obasi.

ELTHAM: Danny Rick, Ralph Crowley, Phil Hopkinson, Alan Raynes, Mick Circa, Danny Spaniak, Stewart Taylor, Gordon McIntosh, David Norton, Ron Vanderzant, Fred Vanderick, Kevin Essendon, Bill Homa.

Besides losing the points Eltham also suffered another two injuries which will further deplete their senior players' list.

The game started at a great pace and Eltham missed three early opportunities. In each case inexperience on the part of younger players was the reason.

Katz masterminded most of the Moreland attacks from midfield and the home side started to get on top after the first half hour.

However Katz blotted his copybook in the 32nd minute when he shot wide from a penalty for a foul in the box.

Within five minutes however, Moreland took the lead when a silly error on the right saw Ferretter pounce on the ball and curling in, slammed the ball past Dick again.

Within five minutes Moreland increased the lead again through Ferretter. He capitalised on a slip in the mud by Circa and slotted the ball past Dick again.

The second half saw Moreland go all out for more goals but strong defensive play by Crowley, Raynes and Hopkinson, stopped them.

Any time that Moreland broke through they found Dick in top form and he brought off some fine saves. Eltham had chances to score but were foiled by the quick covering and smothering by the Moreland defence.

A free kick from Kevin Essendon was well saved under the bar by Debutjugh and on another occasion three Eltham players tried to blast the ball through the net rather than place the ball into the net.

Best for Eltham: Dick Raynes, Hopkinson, Crowley, Moreland, Katz, Duncanson, Ferretter.

Reserves: MORELAND 1 ELTHAM 0. After having 85% of the play Eltham still failed to score and, having given away an early goal through slack defensive play, paid the penalty. Best players, Eltham: Gary Dressler, Mick Walsby, Andy Lee, Kevin Essendon, Moreland: Joe Abonyi, Paul Pesani and Costa.

Third Division DONCASTER ROVERS 3 FORTHLY (20th min.) 47th min.), Willemburg (40th min.), MOOROOLBARK 0.

DONCASTER ROVERS: Gadd, De Rosbo, Liocks, Teer, Long, Anselme, Williams, Copeland, Forsyth, Anselme, Willemburg Subs: Allen, O'Loughlin, Shaw.

MOOROOLBARK: Taylor, Smith, Brown, Murray, Howard, Masters, Earl, Reeves, Priestley (P), Abram, House, Subs: Pappas, Priestley (M).

Rovers were in fine form after their victory over Morwell. Falcons the previous week and forced two corners in the opening minutes which Taylor in the Barkers goal dealt with well.

It wasn't all one-way traffic however, as the tall Priestley, leading Mooroolbark's attack, looked dangerous and long-range effort from him almost caught Steve Gadd napping.

An injury to Rovers' 15th minute rebbed Barkers of their keeper and as Rovers continued to press it seemed a goal must come.

And came it did in the 20th minute when De Rosbo cracked a good ball down the wing and Long, who had made a well timed run from defence, took it almost to the line before centering to Forsyth whose volley into the corner of the net gave the plucky Barkers makeshift keeper, no chance. It was mostly Rovers' from then on, with Mooroolbark able to give only limited support to Priestley who nevertheless brought another good save from Gadd.

Rovers defence was brilliant of confidence and Liocks at left back was able to control the ball and set up several good attacks. Willemburg's persistent attempts to score were finally rewarded when he ran in to meet a Copeland cross and headed neatly over the keeper for Rovers' second goal.

After half-time Rovers went straight into attack and Copeland again was prominent as he set up the move which gave Forsyth his second and Doncaster their third goal a minute into the second half.

The Dons should have found the net several more times and the midfielders joined in the attack and Humble drove a long shot high over the bar.

Mooolbark's final efforts saw two nice saves from Gadd, one an acrobatic backward leap to gather in a lobbing ball.

Mooolbark had no answer to the powerful tackling and covering of Humble, and the prompting of Copeland and Williams and never looked like staying with the Dons.

Rovers now face Prahran on Saturday in what could well be one of their most crucial games of the season.

ESSENDON 2 PRAHRAN CITY 3. Scorers: Essendon 8 mins. and 82nd min. Prahran City: Brown (40th min. and 51st min.), Citterella (75th min.)

PRAHRAN: David Graham, Joe Koba, Eddie Farberher, Stephen Freund, Peter O'Sullivan, Ronnie Brown, Jimmy Graham, Sergio Citterella, Graham Hollingsworth, Donovan De Cerri.

Essendon opened the score when a half-hearted shot was deflected past the Prahran keeper. The visitors then exerted a lot of pressure on the Essendon defence, with left-wing Freund going close to scoring twice.

The pressure told when, from a Citterella corner, Brown potted flicked the ball inside the post. Half time 1-1. Five minutes into the second half Brown slammed home a 30 yard volley to make it 2-1 for Prahran. Citterella then broke through and dribbled the ball around Essendon's keeper to make it 3-1.

Essendon pulled on back form a deflected free-kick.

Fourth Division PARK RANGERS 5 (White 2, Scott 2, Ashton) MONASH UNIVERSITY 0.

RANGERS: Vassili, Copley, Clancy, Semini, McCormack, Hill, Scott, Parsons, White, Ashton, Kelly.

Before this game, Monash was top of the Fourth Division, a point clear, of Werribee.

However, Park Rangers thrashed the Uni boys so easily that it made Monash look like the team was on the bottom.

Star of the game was Martin White, who scored two goals and inspired his side throughout the game.

Scott and Parsons also played very well, but it was White who paved the way for Rangers' big win.

Park Rangers are confident that the team will now go to the top of the division. The club meets fellow promotion hopefuls Werribee in two weeks, and that game will have a big bearing on who wins the championship.

SANDY CITY 5 MORNINGTON 0. Scorers: Kennedy (4th, 10th, 65th min.), Boggan (28th, 61st min.)

SANDRINGHAM: Puggles, Allister, Rae, McColligan, Fathers, Grundy, Drid, Boggan, Kennedy, Antomieu, Palmer, Shaddick, Chilce.

MORNINGTON: Robson, McMillen, Glenncross, Silars, Salter, Hughes, Smith, Burdett, Cox, Lines, Brading, Bellor, Minivce.

This game proved to be an easy win for Sandy on a bad pitch and in terrible conditions. An outstanding display by John Antomieu was the highlight of this game. His non-stop chasing and running-off the ball were excellent.

There seems to be of a promising crop of Sandy youngsters and his shining display was instrumental in this first win of the season.

Two goals in the first ten minutes by Kennedy set the goal on the game. From then on Sandy probed forward and could have had many more goals.

To their credit, Mornington would not surrender and if they had more bite up front they could have reaped rewards for their fine goals of control in midfield.

Both Sandringham full-backs played well and helped out to the Mornington wingers. All in all, it was the win that Sandy needed to boost their morale for this week's important encounter at Werribee.

Best players: Sandy - J. Antomieu, G. Boggan, J. Kennedy, Mornington: R. Cox, P. Smith, B. McNeely.

Provisional One BALLARAT 0 GREENSBOROUGH 3. Scorers: Beard (25th min.), Beer (70th and 82nd min.)

GREENSBOROUGH: Payne, Norris, Robertson, Koenen, McGillip, Payne, Bass, Marfisi, Scafe, Beard, Vant-Hoff, Beer, Sirkadi.

Greensborough, with a total of 13 teams, are making an effort to unite the club by different means, one of which includes alterations to the pavilion at Willinda Park.

Recently nearly $2000 worth of carpet was laid in the room.

Three days later it was made almost worthless when the pavilion was flooded during heavy rain.

But the club has certainly not lost heart and already plans are underway to raise more money and get on with the job.

Ballarat were immediately into attack against Boro on Saturday and had the defence under pressure, forcing mistakes by Gentry and Robertson.

In the 10th minute Payne in the Boro goal was forced to save and from then the visiting team began to fight for dominance.

Beard on the right wing was showing all his skill and continually beat his opponents and in the 25th minute he received a perfect pass from Bass and blasted the ball first-time into the Ballarat goal.

In the 65th minute Beer came on as substitute and only five minutes later made the score 2-0 from a corner by McGillip.

Late in the game Scafe was the victim of an obvious foul in the box and McGillip converted the penalty.

Round six of the Victorian Industrial League championship saw several teams register their first win of the season and new league leaders in Division 2 and 4.

MILOS ADAMOVIĆ had a great game for Tarax 'A' and scored all the team's goals in their 5-2 defeat of Sperry Vickers.

There seems to be no stopping Pegasus who, after defeating W.D. & H.O. Wills 3-0, have a three-point lead over second club Roman Leathergoods who dropped a point at home to Bosch Dynamo 'A'.

Public Works 'A' were sailing home in grand style against Meko Holdings but in the second half Meko came more into the game and the Workers were glad to escape with a point.

Bowater Scott staged a great comeback against R.A.C.V. who led by two Peter Gray goals at the interval. Phil Dunning put the Scotts level on level terms, and shortly before the end Ernie Howarth caught the ball on the volley direct from a throw-in to score the winner.

In Division 2 Colyer Watson Rovers surprisingly dropped a point against Tarax 'B' who were a tight game but it was still sufficient for them to regain the leadership as Annet went down 0-2 at Diecart.

Middle Park V.R.I. 'A' are level on points with the Rovers after defeating T.A.A. 1-0 and with Siemens 'A' defeating Philip Morris 3-1. Langwarrup v Ascol United, Geelong v Kew, and Geelong v East Carlton.

MIKE, ROSS, HAKOAH

SUNSHINE CITY 1 (Lain 61st min) HAKOAH 0

SUNSHINE: Scholten 7, Dixey 8, Lowe 7, Ellis 7, Howe 7, Mussel 6, Banagan 6, Blair 6, Gibson 6, Gadsby 6, French 6, Clary 6 (Craig 62nd min).

HAKOAH: Whiteside 6, Valli 6, Baker 6, Edmondson 7, Jordanou 6, Daperis 6, Blair 6, Gibson 6, Gadsby 6, French 6, Clary 6 (Craig 62nd min).

Sunshine City made a prize catch when the club signed Nick Lowe, the former Oxford Utd player, from Mooroolbark on a free transfer.

Lowe, who signed from Sunshine last Thursday, came to Australia last year with Barrie Fairbrother, the former Millwall and Orient striker, to play with Mooroolbark.

It's surprising that Lowe was released from Mooroolbark, which was heavily in debt after the inaugural Phillips League season, had fought tooth and nail to get money for any player cleared by the club. Lowe would be worth at least $2000 in present transfer market conditions.

Lowe played as sweeper, and had a good debut.

For Hakoah, $6000 man Graham French played the best he has since transferring from South Melbourne Hellas.

The former Mooroolbark striker put plenty of effort into his game and wasn't deterred when the Sunshine backmen started getting stuck into him.

Like him, the post with one shot, and did a lot of hard running when chasing through balls or pressuring the Sunshine defence.

However, Hakoah's overall team performance was disappointing. Only when the team went behind did it start pushing forward with urgency to pressure the Sunshine goal.

During the last 20 minutes, Hakoah's passing was crisp, and midfielders John Daperis and lan Gibson started running into goal, but in the time preceding the Sunshine goal, Hakoah was slow building up attacks, and didn't play as a team.

Gibson was quiet, and the Hakoah players didn't seem prepared to run at the Sunshine defenders, preferring to push the ball square or pump it into the penalty area.

A lot of credit for Sunshine's victory must go to the side's back four. Lowe, Mike Dixey, Dave Ellis and Hugh Howe who tackled fast and hard, and didn't crack when subjected to a lot of pressure late in the game.

Goalkeeper John Scholten handled all crosses well and saved at French's feet when it looked certain he would score the equaliser 10 minutes from the end.

Sunshine centre forward Ray Pocock played extremely well. He was always trying to open up the Sunshine forward line with flicks and made good position when his side broke out of defence into attack.

Pocock set up a good opportunity for Will Lain in the first half. He went wide, then received a through ball from the middle. While Hakoah was appealing for offside, Pocock took the ball to the byline then cut it back into the path of Lain.

Lain was on the corner of the six yard box but his low shot was saved by Billy Whiteside.

Later in the first half, Lain combined with Frank Mussel and the ball hit the post. The two Sunshine men had chased a long, bouncing through ball, and one of them got a toe to it before Whiteside or Gerry Edmondson could clear.

Sunshine's attacks in the first half were much more venomous than Hakoah's. Sunshine broke out of defence quickly and relied on trying to break through the Hakoah defence using through balls, rather than conducting an attack as Hakoah did.

The Sunshine team had more fighting spirit than Hakoah, and this was evident by the time the City boys chased back and tackled. Hakoah pushed the ball around well in midfield but while this sometimes is good to watch, it doesn't necessarily create goals.

Gibson came close to scoring after a dummy by French put him through. Scholten came out to block the shot but it was mainly the challenge by Howe that prevented Gibson from getting the ball into the net.

French hit a hard, low shot towards goal, but Scholten got down well to collect it.

Sunshine's goal came after a raid down the left flank. With the Hakoah back four stretched, Sunshine did it easily, taking the ball to the byline and cutting it back. Lain was on hand to poke it into the net.

After the goal Sunshine sat back and soaked up the Hakoah pressure. Mussel and Rob Nelson must get credit for the job they did in the midfield during this time.

The two midfielders helped out their defence, making it harder for Hakoah to get an equaliser.

The bad feature of the game was the many scraps and passes on occasions went everywhere and anywhere except their intended destination. As a result, the game stop and start every half minute or so.

However, one of the highlights was a pass by Hakoah's David Baker in the opening minutes. He was on the half-way line and had the ball pushed back to him. Hakoah had been attacking, so most of the players were in front of Baker in the Sunshine half of the field. He looked up and saw Stewart Blair deep in the Sunshine half on the touchline. Baker passed the ball to his foot from a distance of 40 yards over several Sunshine players.

The win for Sunshine was a good tonic after last week's dismal display against Makedonia, but Hakoah hadn't yet played as a team, although the four attacks of a good side are there.

GREEN GULLY 0 JUVENTUS 1. (Sabidussi 34th)

GREEN GULLY: Denys, Klain, Donaldson (Segi 58th), Patten, Cain, J. Thompson, McCarthy, Bennie, L. Thompson, Tribuzio, Perkin.

JUVENTUS: Graham, Della Rocca (Gurcio 5th), Sabadini, Pfisterer, Walker, C. Lucchessi, Smith, Sabidussi, Watkins, Armstrong, Hoson.

RUGH GRAHAM brought off a brilliant save midway through the second half to deny Gully an equaliser the goal so richly deserved.

Alain, who had been in the second half in search of the elusive goal but were thwarted by the Juve keeper and the post.

Graham made a full length dive to stop a shot on the turn from just outside the six yard box by Gerry Tribuzio after Andy Segi had crossed hard and low into the area.

The keeper showed superb reflexes in reaching the ball, and earned the admiration of the Ajax followers.

Five minutes later Gully again came close. David Perkin received a short corner from Joe Thompson and crossed into the box for Segi to connect and head past Graham only to see the ball hit the post.

The match had started with Juventus on the offensive. Ajax coach Duncan McKay played the game with a midfield of full-backs and a lone striker, Blain Klain shadowing Mark Watkins.

Green Gully's new midfielder Nigel Daniels, who arrived last week was unable to play because his clearance from the English Football Association didn't arrive in time.

Juventus lined up without their new signing, Jim Symington. He left for Scotland only a week after transferring from Slavia, due to a family bereavement. He is expected back later this week.

Juventus is waiting for a new striker to come from Scotland, and coach Bobby McLachlan is hoping he will give the side the finishing power the team has been lacking.

Stewart full-back Pat Sella came off second best in a tackle in the first five minutes and style by Trano Sabidussi, who planted it past Lou Denys for his first goal of the season.

It's not known if Kuzmanov now wants to leave the club. Slavia's Steve Short got his marching orders in the 80th minute after elbowing Billy Vojtek in the face. The full back picked the wrong time to lash out, as the referee was only a yard or two away and had no hesitation reaching for his red card.

The score at the time was 4-0 so Short's exit had no bearing on the outcome.

Croatia's performance was one of its better ones this season. The defence was as strong as usual and in the middle Alan Kerr was very creative.

Ken Murphy was Croatia's best player and his pace and skill is invaluable in the midfield. Murphy has scored and set up many goals by running with the ball from mid-field and unleashing shots at goal. Many keepers don't expect shots from the distance that Murphy often fires from and either allow a free kick or fumble the ball and allow a follow up goal.

Croatia's second goal came from Murphy. His long shot caught Peter Clarke by surprise, and he was kicking himself for letting in such a soft goal.

However, even when Slavia was 2-0 down the team continued to push forward. Had not so many of the side's attacking moves broken down around the penalty area, Slavia could've got back into the game.

Two goals towards the end of the game sealed Slavia's fate, but the team still has the ability to make the final four.

FRANKSTON CITY 2 (MacGregor 2, 35th min., 43rd min) GEORGE CROSS 1 (Cullen 75th min).

FRANKSTON: Petersen, V. Bannion, Irvine, Gillespie, Williamson, Tulloch, Parrot, G. Bannion, MacGregor, Eadie, Webster.

CROSS: Rice, McConnell, Mifsud (Pagaras 75th min), Maitland, Barron, Cullen, Wilkinson (Barni 20th min), Murphy, Reed, Webb, Mirak.

Two missed penalties by George Cross helped Frankston City stay in touch with Croatia.

Paul Murphy slammed his spot kick against the bar and Derek Barron fluffed a great chance to equalise two minutes from the end when his spot kick was saved by Frank Petersen, who covered himself in glory.

Frankston meets Croatia in two weeks, and the match will be part of the official opening of the club's new ground.

Centenary Park, McClelland Drive, is the venue for the big dish on June 18, and Cr. Max Batcher, the Mayor of Frankston, local MPs and Victorian Soccer Federation officials will be there.

Frankston will get its big chance to stake a claim for the State League championship if the team can out-gun Croatia, but the baysiders must keep winning.

Gordon MacGregor finally came good for Frankston, and his two goals in this game are his first for the club.

His second, a diving header, brought the crowd to its feet, but still Frankston could do with more punch up front.

Alan Parrot played a serviceable game in the midfield for Frankston, but he missed a few opportunities to score after coming forward.

Frankston did a lot of the team's attacking down the right flank. William Barron was a weakness. However, on the other side, Alex McConnell was solid as ever.

Frankston defended well and attacked in numbers. The City players got stuck in when tackling, and Vince Bannion was dangerous when he came forward after breaking up attacks or overlapping.

MIKE DIXEY of Sunshine City is the State League player of the week. He wins a dinner for two at Nickleby's of Carlton.

MAKEDONIA 1 (Blasevski 48th min) RINGWOOD CITY 0.

MAKEDONIA: Laumets 7, Glasson 5, Brewerton 5, Hooper 6, Blasevski 7, Glennon 6, McClymont 6, McMillan 5, Bernard 8, Savski 6.

RINGWOOD: Wilding 6, Adams 6, Luyten 6, Carnaby 6, Verniers 6, G. Greenwald 6 (W. Greenwald 58th min), Garthwaite 7, Coulson 7, Plumb 6, O'Callaghan 6, Thom 7.

Ringwood coach Freddy Bunce has fined eight of his players for disciplinary reasons.

Slapped the fines on the players for "rolling up to training when they felt like it and arriving at the games only 20 minutes before kick off."

Discipline will be more strict from now on, said Bunce after his team's loss to Makedonia, the fifth on end. "We can't afford to have a slack attitude. We're not deemed to relegation, even if a lot of people are saying we are."

Bunce added that this week's game against Hakoah was crucial and had to be won.

THE BEST RANGE OF SOCCER BOOKS AROUND

This book has been written to present the experience of The Football Association over the years in the fields of coaching and training. It is written by the F.A.'s Director of Coaching who says: 'A coach's aim is to find the most economical way of causing a player to become a better player.' Mr. Wade, himself, had found a most economical and lucid way of putting across this generalization in print. For the sake of clarity he has divided the book into three parts: First — Principles, Systems and Tactics of the Game; Second — Principles of Training and Training Methods; Third — Definition and Acquisition of Skill. The text is presented in a manner that will make it clearly understood to player and coach alike and will add to the sports libraries of schools. Keyed to the text, and making the reader's progress both easier and more instructive, are over 140 line drawings and over 60 photographic illustrations. A special feature of this book are the training schedules. For the professional player, specimen schedules are offered for both off-season and in-season training, while for the amateur, which includes schoolboy and youth players, programs fitted to the needs of footballers with limited time and facilities are separately drafted. Specialized training for goalkeepers is also recommended as being in a department necessarily distinct from other positions on the field of play. The theme of the book takes full account of modern tactical development and emphasizes the need for the modern footballer to 'read the game' and understand the systems and tactics that are outlined.

ZIKA NIKOLIC

Mnogi timovi bi pozeleli da imaju četvrtinu sansi koje ima JUST na svakoj utakmici Philips Nacjonalne Lige. Na zalost, navaini igrači JUST-a ih retko koriste, sto je poznata jugoslovenska bolest. Utakmica JUST — Newcastle je jedna od mnogih primera kako ne treba igrati negomert. Iako je kisa padala, atmosfera je bila divna. Hiljade navijaca je došlo da pokusnu do kostiju, ubedivši da ce ih "plavi" zagreju efikasnom igrom i pobedom. Medjutim, dogodilo se suprotno, pa zbog toga treba traziti lek. "Plavi" nemaju izrazitog strelca. Dragan Vasic je pokazao takvu odliku prosle godine, ali ove godine mu ništa ne polazi za nogom, niti glavom. Sto se vise trudi manje uspeva. Ne ostaje nista drugo nego cekati dok ne razbije maler, jer dobri strelci ne padaju so neba. Kada se to mislim, padne mi na pamet Zeljko Mitroce, koji sa uspehom igra Aussie Rules u Essendonu, iako je negomert voleo iznad svega. I znao da ga igra bolje nego stotine drugih. Takvog talentovanog igrača, pravog bombardera pred protivničkim golom, likvidirali su negomertna birokracija i zlobni funkcioneri.

Talentovane igrače sami unistavaju, jer su nam dva boda vaznija od pravog nogometa i sportske razonode. Video sam kako je udaren Edi Krmovic, zatim Cvetan Talevski i mnogi drugi. Talentovani igrači, ako je pored toga mislim i brz, dobije vrlo brzo podmukao udarac, koji ga lako može onesposobiti za citav život. Siguran sam da je Cvetan Talevski postao markirani igrač, koji je dobio dva zdelata da ga udese, jer se drukcije nije mogao zadržati. Standard nash sudija je takav da se od njih ne može očekivati zaštita. Kada je Talevski dobio udarac, sudija nije svirao ni slobodan udarac.

ODMOR MOZE POMOCI

Ostaje nam jedino da se pomirimo sa sudbinom, ocekujuci da ce se neko Wills ipak dogoditi. JUST je slobodan 14 dana, a odmor mnogo znaci. U subotu 27. maja "plavi" igraju protiv Aleksandra na svom igralistu u Footscray-u. Do tada ćemo svi zaboraviti na poraz sa Newcastlom, pa možemo ocekivati ugodno iznenađenje.

Drugi tim JUST-a je osvetlao obraz. Pobedio je vrlo dobar tim Port Melbourne, iako je nastupio ostarben — bez dosedne krila Talevskog i menadzera Jospa Sterlina, koji je bio bolestan. Obojica su se najvise radovali pobedi, cak je Sterlinu pomogla da preživi.

Iduće subote, 20. maja, drugi tim JUST-a, koji se vratio na prvo mesto druge divizije, igra protiv Morelanda na svom igralistu u Footscray-u.

PROVIZIONALNA LIGA

Hawthorn — CENTRAL ALTONA 0:2 (0:0). Ovu put Central Altona je igrala konstruktivno. Brzo dodavanje sa prodornim prvo poluvremenu. Central Altona je poslala dva suteva na gol, od kojih su dva završila u mrezi, dva puta je pogodjena stativa, dok je preko preke probujalo nekoliko opasnih lopti. Ovo je bila jedna od najlepših utakmica koju je igrala Central Altona. Strelci: Dordje Markovski u 70 i Lazar Lazarevski u 85 minuta. Sastav Central Altona: Surbevski, Kekovski, Markovski, Tundjevski, Stojekovic. Iduće subote Central Altona igra protiv Buleena na svom igralistu.

KPored Adamovica, koji vodi na listi strelaca Industrijske lige sa 11 golova, najbolji je bio golman Sander Kazi. Treba pohvaliti Josi Jovana Milinova, koji se odlucio snasao po blatu i kisi. Rezerva Taraxa igrala je nerenseno 2:2 sa Public Works-om. Oba gola je postigao Papagouonous, dok su najbolji igrači bili Drago Karaga, Cooper i Psatis.

PEGASUS-Willa 3:0. Pegasus je uvek jedini nepobedjen tim u industrijskoj ligi. Strelci: Joe Moorle, Roman Petelinke, Stef Sabljak. Sastav Pegasus: Kurjan 7, T. Placko 7, Harris 6, Petelinke 8, Moorle 8, Stanovic 7, Sabljak 7, Taylor 7, Fus 6, Pavlovic 7, Ovarc 7.

TOKYO, 1971: Attila Abonyi (left) scores his second goal for St George against Japan B in a three-nation tournament won by the Saints.

'I didn't want to be dumped' Abonyi has only one goal left

Attila Abonyi has been deprived of the chance to play a last farewell match for Australia against Greece before he leaves with his club, Sydney Croatia, on a four-week tour of Canada and the U.S. on June 26.

National coach Jim Shoulder left Abonyi out of all three squads to meet Greece next month in Adelaide, Melbourne and Sydney.

"I have played 11 years for the national team," Abonyi says proudly, "but let's face it — time has caught up with me."

"However, I didn't want to be dumped like so many other players who have represented their country."

"A little recognition is all that I had hoped for. It would have been great to go out knowing that I played my last international for Australia at home."

"Even if they'd let me play for only 15 minutes, I would have been one hell of a delighted man."

Abonyi, 31, has been capped 61 times for Australia and is the national team's top scorer.

Frank Arok — Abonyi's toughest coach.

Abonyi scores from the penalty spot against Manly in this year's NSW State League premiership.

the first in the history of the club.

Croatia, perhaps more than any other club in Sydney, has a history of not retaining its coaches long.

Does this worry Abonyi, the youngest coach in the State League?

"When I took the job I demanded two things," Abonyi said.

"First I wanted the attitude of the players to be better and secondly I wanted the discipline improved."

"That's the way I was brought up."

"I don't think I ever had a tougher coach than Frank Arok when I was with St. George."

Arok was at St. George in 1969, 1970 and 1972.

Abonyi also had another hard master in Rale Rasic with St. George in 1971.

"I think it is very important too, that players should be professional on and off the park," Abonyi said.

"Players should be able to apply themselves to losing as well as winning."

Abonyi, whose contract with Croatia is as a player and not as coach, was quick to change the team's training set-up.

"I am a firm believer in quick, sharper work," he said.

"In three months' time I would hope that the players automatically know what's to be done on the field."

"I have stressed to my players not to rush their game and just hold possession. They are simple basics."

Abonyi has an old saying which goes: "I regard the ball to be the same as money."

In other words you have to earn it.

Can Croatia retain the championship this year?

"It's a lot harder to remain champions because everyone is out to beat us," he said.

"I am not over-confident but I have enough trust in the boys to believe they can carry off the title again."

After 167 first team appearances with Melbourne, now in Second Division, he moved to Sydney and joined St. George.

Last year when the Phillips League was introduced, he chose to stay in State League and joined Croatia.
